Save Money. Reduce Waste. Form Friendships

Meeting as small groups of neighbours over seven sessions, residents will discuss various topics including energy, food, travel, water and waste.

It's a judgement free zone where we can learn from each other to save money and waste. A trained facilitator will help kick off the sessions and will be available to support throughout.

We're really excited that the award-winning Transition Street (TS) is coming back to Kings Langley to help us connect with our neighbours, support each other to reduce our living costs, and cut our carbon footprint whilst taking practical actions together as a community.

Previous participants have formed great friendships from being part of TS, as well as saved £100s annually in their bills.
